

FATAL FEBRUARY—Darryl Hickman Quote

“Fatal February, Barbara Levenson’s first novel, proves the unlikely case that being a circuit court judge in Florida is a perfect training ground for writing a highly entertaining piece of fiction. Levenson’s story, set in Miami and its environs, is fast-paced and suspenseful, with multiple plot lines, colorful characters and plenty of surprises along the way. The author’s extensive knowledge of the law is evident on every page, but there’s no shortage of romantic encounters to give spice to the legal maneuvering that keeps the reader turning the page. Female murder mystery fans, especially, will identify with her heroine, Mary Magruder Katz, a saucy, sassy, crackerjack lady lawyer with a very healthy libido. Fatal February, the first in a series of books featuring the exploits of the dynamic Ms. Katz, will delight the many fans addicted to this genre. It’s John Grisham in spiked heels and should sell like hot cakes. Read Fatal February—you won’t regret it!”
